

Research Policy

In order to maintain the integrity of the museum files and archives, persons wishing to research materials in the Wayne Historical Museum must request files from the Museum manager and use them at the large table in the northeast corner of the Museum. In the event several files are requested, the manager will provide one at a time to avoid inadvertent cross filing. At no time, are researchers allowed access to the Museum office or to the files; all requests must be made to the Museum manager.
